Movements Of Fleet Up To Kimmel

Stark Gave Order But Made No Check On How Kimmel Was Carrying It Out

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(P)—Admiral Harold R. Stark said today that he left all responsibility for movements of the Pacific fleet up to Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, its commander, after ordering a "defensive deployment" Nov. 27, 1941.

As chief of naval operations, Stark said, he made no check on how Kimmel was carrying out that order because that was not the navy way of doing things.

"In the navy," he explained to a senate-house investigating committee "an officer gives an order and expects a subordinate to carry it out."

With this testimony, the white-thatched naval officer left the witness chair after a week of questioning. He maintained throughout that:

1. Kimmel had received "adequate information" so that he should have been on guard when the Japanese struck Dec. 7, 1941.
2. No top official in Washington sought war with Japan, but on the contrary all endeavored to maintain peace because the country was unprepared for a "two front," war and Hitler was regarded as the major threat.

Recessed Until Jan. 15
When Stark's examination was completed, the committee recessed until Jan. 15. At that time Kimmel will be the witness. He to be followed by Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, army commander at Hawaii when the Japanese struck. Stark testified he relieved Admiral Kimmel as commander-in-chief, Pacific fleet, on orders from Frank Knox, after the then secretary of the navy had talked with the President.

"I received my orders regarding Admiral Kimmel," Stark said, "I was not consulted beforehand." Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) asked Stark if he didn't think the Japanese knew about the scouting activities of American ships in the South China seas and the witness said they probably did. It seemed apparent then, Ferguson continued, that the Japs might conclude that the British, Americans and Dutch were working together and that a Japanese attack on one would bring all three into the war.

Studied World Situation
Stark replied that he doesn't know to this day what this country would have done if it had not been attacked.

"We had no commitment whatsoever or any intimation that we would shoot unless we were attacked and then we would not wait for orders," he said.

The Michigan senator asked whether Stark had been consulted about the navy's military readiness, in case of war, at the time embargoes were placed on shipment of oil and other products to Japan several months before Pearl Harbor.

The whole situation had been gone into, Stark replied. "We had the military might to implement the war plans," he continued. "We knew it would be an 'H' of a war, particularly to start with."

The Schedule
Stark recalled he had told a news conference while still chief of naval operations that 1942 would be a defensive year in the Pacific, that we would be gathering strength in 1943, that we would go all-out in 1944 and "that we would win in 1945."

Stark related to the committee that he warned Japanese Ambassador Nomura before the break with Japan that if the United States were forced into a fight it would mean "the end of the Japanese empire."

Complete Plan For Highway Construction

Projects To Cost $49,069,000 Are On Drawing Boards

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(P)—Missouri has completed plans for $21,809,000 in highway construction and additional projects estimated to cost $49,069,000 are on the drawing boards.

Immediately available to the state from federal air funds is $14,373,931, the first of three grants under the government's $1,500,000,000 road program.

Virtually all highway construction in the state was suspended during the war because of lack of manpower, materials and funds.

Missouri's allotment includes $6,660,223 regular federal aid; $1,562,550 for secondary and feeder roads, and $3,151,158 for urban highways.

Federal aid funds generally are matched dollar for dollar by states.

All Type Of Work
Contracts covered by the first allotment may be let anytime in the next 18 months.

The projects cover all types of construction.

Missouri's construction is not expected by the public roads administration to get under way until next spring. Construction will depend much upon labor.

The agency says that there will be a sufficient quantity of equipment available.

Some rights-of-way still are to be obtained.

Tornadoes In East Texas

PALESTINE, Tex., Jan. 5.—(P)—Texas highway patrolmen converged on East Texas to aid scores of local officials still digging through the debris of three communities today seeking victims of Texas tornadoes that took a toll of 24 known dead last night.

Approximately 100 others were injured critically enough to be hospitalized. Hundreds of others were hurt less seriously.

Tornado winds, striking along Bayou Teche in the Louisiana Acadian country early today, caused damage estimated by town officials at about $100,000 in St. Martinsville and vicinity. No one was reported injured. Homes and farm buildings were damaged over a wide area, trees were blown down and telephone communication was severed for several hours.

The tornadoes followed a week of balmy, unseasonal winter warmth. The sudden change in weather was felt over the entire state, high winds being reported at Port Arthur, on the Gulf Coast, Laredo on the Mexican border, and Texarkana on the northern edge of Texas.

Most seriously affected area was in the Pinelawn foothills of East Texas. Tornadoes struck Southview, near Palestine; Clawson, near Lufkin; and Nacogdoches community.

Victory Drive For Clothing January 6-20

There will be very little time lag between the giving of clothing in the Victory Clothing Collection and the receiving of it by the needy and destitute overseas.

In Sedalia the drive will be from January 6 until January 20, but those who have clothing are asked not to take it to the centers until January 14. The centers will be all school buildings, also police station, post office, court house, Fox and Uptown theatres.

Dan A. West, director of the Division of Contributed Supplies of UNRRA, on whose behalf the clothing drive is being held, has stated: "Warehouse facilities which once baled one million pounds of clothing a month have been stepped up to bale two million pounds a day. Shipping of relief supplies is no longer a problem."

Clothing so desperately needed by war victims overseas will get to them much sooner if contributors to the Victory Clothing Collection will heed two simple suggestions:

1. Mate shoes, boots, galoshes, overshoes, rubbers, mittens, gloves. Tuck shoe mates heel-to-heel and tie them securely with stout string.
2. Fasten the parts of a suit, the trousers, vest, and jacket—together firmly. Or the skirt and jacket. Or the blouse, bolero and skirt of a two-piece dress. Or the coat and dress of an ensemble.

Hold Youth For Murder

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 5.—(P)—John William Ladd, 16-year-old Philadelphia Negro, admitted in a signed confession to officers here today that he slugged "an elderly looking lady" near Kansas City, Mo., then fired a pistol shot into her body. Sheriff's Investigator Raymond South said.

Ladd was arrested at the Bexar county home for boys in Southtown yesterday, where he had been sent after breaking into a house here some time ago, South said.

The arrest came after authorities had received a telegram from Jack Brice, superintendent of the sheriff's office, Kansas City, who said the youth was wanted there for murder in connection with the aged woman's death last November.

Ladd waived extradition.

175 Delegates At Conference Here Friday

J. C. Loggan Is Chosen To Lead Meeting Next Year

The twenty-second annual Clover and Prosperity conference held Friday at the First M. E. church, Sedalia, was well attended and held the interest of the 175 delegates throughout the entire program.

The guest speaker on the afternoon program was Arnold W. Klemme, extension specialist in soils from the University of Missouri. Mr. Klemme had as his topic "Factors to be Considered in Post-War Farming Operations in Pettis County." He used picture-slides to assist him in his talks.

In considering the factors which enter into farming operations now, Mr. Klemme stressed the need of fertilizers of the right amounts and the proper balance in order to obtain increased yields and also maintain the fertility level. The speaker pointed out that the land is being depleted of its organic matter and other nutrients and that action must be taken. He went on to say that the food which is produced is only as good as the soil on which it was grown and that in a number of cases livestock disorders are the result of feeding grain and roughage which have grown on soil that lacked a proper balance of nutrients. In isolated cases the abnormal conditions have also appeared in man.

Added Responsibility

Mr. Klemme told farmers that their practice of liming was necessary but that it also placed an added responsibility on the farmer who applies it to his land. Every acre which is limed should be replenished with organic matter and this can best be done by following the lime with a legume.

Mr. Klemme pointed out that there were certain necessary fundamentals in conserving our land. We must learn to use our

Three Killed In Collision

MADRID, Mo., Jan. 5.—(P)—Three Kewanee farmers were killed late today when a south-bound troop train struck their truck at an intersection in Kewanee, six miles north of here.

Dead were Will Cox, 45, his son, Vernon Cox, 17, and Ray Sizemore, 20.

Leo Hedgepeth, New Madrid county coroner, said no inquest was necessary after he questioned the engineer and fireman of the train. He quoted the Engineer, H. L. Houseman of Chaffee, as saying the train was travelling about 60 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

Houseman told him, the coroner said, that he didn't see the truck but felt the impact and stopped the train, which was delayed about two hours.

Vernon Lancaster of Kewanee, who witnessed the accident, said the driver of the truck apparently didn't see the train, Hedgepeth added.

Ensign Hall:
"For meritorious achievement in aerial flight as pilot of a Torpedo bomber in Torpedo Squadron Twelve, attached to the U. S. S. Randolph, during action against enemy Japanese forces in the Bonin Islands area on February 18, 1945. A skilled and intrepid aviator, Ensign Hall boldly flew in over the target area in daring defiance of the enemy's concentrated anti-aircraft fire and, skillfully maneuvering for maximum striking power, pressed home a brilliantly executed glide-bombing attack against the enemy to assist in the damaging of a vital air-strip and the sinking of a cargo ship in the harbor. His superb air-manship, daring tactics and zealous devotion to duty in the face of grave danger were essential factors in the success of our aerial offensive against the Japanese and reflect the highest credit upon Ensign Hall and the United States naval service."

Hall has been listed officially as "missing in action" since the February 18 attack.

Soldier Asks Citizens To Help Find Dog

A soldier passing through Sedalia, makes an appeal to citizens of Sedalia for help in finding his lost dog. His letter, sent to the Democrat, speaks for itself:

"Aboard Troop Train

Electrical Workers Call Strike

CIO Calls 200,000 Workers From Coast To Coast To Halt Work January 15

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(P)—The United Electrical Workers (CIO) today called 200,000 workers from coast to coast to strike Jan. 15 in plants of General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors.

Thus by Jan. 15, more than 1,000,000 members of the "big three" CIO unions—the electric workers, steel workers and auto workers—are scheduled to be on strike.

Some 700,000 members of the giant United Steel Workers have voted to quit their jobs Jan. 14, and 213,000 members of the United Auto Workers have been on strike since last Nov. 21.

All three unions are seeking $2 a day, or about 30 per cent, pay increases. The electric workers voted Dec. 13 by about five to one for a walkout.

Officers Issue Call

The Jan. 15 strike call was issued by Albert J. Fitzgerald, international president of the UEW; Julius Emspak, international secretary treasurer, and James J. Matles, director of organization.

The call came an hour after Charles E. Wilson, General Electric president, made a new offer to the union, declaring the company was willing to pay a flat 10-cents-an-hour increase to all workers earning less than $1 an hour.

In announcing the strike call, UEW President Fitzgerald said: "The new offer of the General Electric company has been rejected. It points up to the cheapness of General Electric."

"We are ready to negotiate any time the General Electric company sees fit to bargain in good faith."

Those Affected

The strike would affect 100,000 General Electric Workers, 75,000 in Westinghouse and 25,000 in the electrical division of General Motors, the union leader said.

The union also has rejected a 13½ cent an hour increase offered by General Motors.

The UEW officials said setting of the Jan. 15 date for the strike followed a strategy conference of leaders of the "big three" with CIO President Philip Murray in Washington Friday. The UEW is the third largest CIO union, representing 700,000 workers in 22 states.

W. G. Marshall, Westinghouse vice president in charge of industrial relations, said the company "already pays better than the average of its competitors" and had proposed that a five and a half day week "be increased wherever possible," the increased work week, he said, "would mean a 15 per cent increase in wages for a 10 per cent increase in hours."

FIFTY YEARS HEALING PROGRESS

The year 1945 marks the golden jubilee of two major advances in the healing arts. In 1895 Roentgen discovered X-ray and Palmer discovered chiropractic. While Roentgen was discovering the great principle of penetration by that unknown force designated "X" ray, Dr. D. D. Palmer in his obscure Iowa office replaced a vertebra in a janitor's back and restored his hearing and brought forth the principle of chiropractic.

Roentgen could have no knowledge that his superlative discovery in physics would help establish and prove the scientific soundness of his contemporary's discovery in therapeutics. From its beginning chiropractic has been more dependent on X Rays than any other system of healing. Today, in proportion to number, there is more x-ray equipment in the offices of chiropractors than of any other school of healing.

Like the surgeon who cannot operate without sufficient light, many chiropractors feel they would be much in the dark without the advantages of the "inside blueprint" which came to the world from Roentgen in the same year that their own profession came from Dr. Palmer. Spinal X Rays show the exact position of the spinal vertebra and increases the efficiency of chiropractic greatly. It may mean the difference between success and failure.

The Daily Washington

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—If the general staff in Washington read the thousands of letters which pour in on congressmen and this columnist from GI Joes everywhere, undoubtedly a broad-gauged man like General Eisenhower would move to rectify some of the things which are destroying morale in the army.

The GI of course doesn't write to General Eisenhower or the War Department, first because he figures his letter wouldn't be read, and second, if it was read, he would only get into trouble. However, here is some recommended reading for the general staff in the Pentagon building—a cross-section of letters recently received by this columnist. The note of discouragement, frustration and bitterness is not unusual. Unfortunately it runs through practically all the letters, and indicates that something vitally wrong at the bottom must be cleaned up before building a large new peace-time military structure.

An air force officer in the Pacific sent this columnist an Air Medal ribbon with one Oak Leaf Cluster. With it he enclosed a newspaper clipping telling how Gen. Barney Giles had awarded Air Medals to Lieut. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Jr., and Maj. Gen. Clark L. Ruffner for "numerous long-distance flights over water under extremely hazardous weather conditions."

The officer's letter read: "Here is an article about the awarding of an Air Medal to one 'old school tie' by another. Just another case of the W.P.P.A. taking care of its own. W.P.P.A. means West Point Protective Association."

"Enclosed you will also find a couple of Air Medals I won while playing tag with some Jap flak some time back. You should see the back end of General Richardson's plane! Ice box, bunks, plush seats and all the rest of the best. Tough life he had sleeping over those long, dangerous hours of 'over-water flying.'"

A lieutenant-colonel who forwarded the above letter wrote "I was associated with this officer for a year, two-thirds of that being spent on two Jims. His feelings represent the general opinion of practically all reserve officers who were in battle. Any more-ordinary action of a West Point graduate called for unusual attention and awards. My pride in being a reserve officer on active duty prior to Pearl Harbor took a number of eye-opening jolts on Iwo and I expect to resign my commission as a lieutenant-colonel six months after my terminal leave expires."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—If the general staff in Washington read the thousands of letters which pour in on congressmen and this columnist from GI Joes everywhere, undoubtedly a broad-gauged man like General Eisenhower would move to rectify some of the things which are destroying morale in the army.

The GI of course doesn't write to General Eisenhower or the War Department, first because he figures his letter wouldn't be read, and second, if it was read, he would only get into trouble. However, here is some recommended reading for the general staff in the Pentagon building—a cross-section of letters recently received by this columnist. The note of discouragement, frustration and bitterness is not unusual. Unfortunately it runs through practically all the letters, and indicates that something vitally wrong at the bottom must be cleaned up before building a large new peace-time military structure.

An air force officer in the Pacific sent this columnist an Air Medal ribbon with one Oak Leaf Cluster. With it he enclosed a newspaper clipping telling how Gen. Barney Giles had awarded Air Medals to Lieut. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Jr., and Maj. Gen. Clark L. Ruffner for "numerous long-distance flights over water under extremely hazardous weather conditions."

The officer's letter read: "Here is an article about the awarding of an Air Medal to one 'old school tie' by another. Just another case of the W.P.P.A. taking care of its own. W.P.P.A. means West Point Protective Association."

"Enclosed you will also find a couple of Air Medals I won while playing tag with some Jap flak some time back. You should see the back end of General Richardson's plane! Ice box, bunks, plush seats and all the rest of the best. Tough life he had sleeping over those long, dangerous hours of 'over-water flying.'"

A lieutenant-colonel who forwarded the above letter wrote "I was associated with this officer for a year, two-thirds of that being spent on two Jims. His feelings represent the general opinion of practically all reserve officers who were in battle. Any more-ordinary action of a West Point graduate called for unusual attention and awards. My pride in being a reserve officer on active duty prior to Pearl Harbor took a number of eye-opening jolts on Iwo and I expect to resign my commission as a lieutenant-colonel six months after my terminal leave expires."

1945—YEAR OF RETRIBUTION

By NEA Service

THERE was no battle in the Pacific like Okinawa. On that little lizard-shaped island scarcely an hour's flight from the Japanese homeland, the Nips had 70,000 troops. It takes a long time to kill 70,000 men one at a time. They had more artillery and used it to better advantage than anywhere he'd fought them before. Out of the north flew the Kamikaze suicide fliers to smash at our naval support. In two and one-half months they sank 33 U.S. ships and damaged 45. Ashore the Marines and dough-boys suffered 39,000 casualties. In the fleet more than 10,000 naval personnel were killed or wounded. We learned there about the Pike looked around the lobby for the green-eyed girl with the auburn hair. She was not there. He went outside, crossed the broad veranda and went down on to the lawn. He turned left through a croquet layout with varnished wooden wickets with big red bows on them.

Ahead was a little flag-stoned patio with green metal tables and chairs under huge striped umbrellas. A small canopy was hung over a heavy, metal-studded door marked THE PUB.

Pike went in. It was a friendly little nook. It had stone-topped tables and a copper-fastened bar. It had a bartender with thick, pomaded hair, who polished glasses and whistled off-key a mournful little tune called "Gloomy Sunday." The suicide song, Pike turned to go.

"Looking for someone?"

The voice was calculating and deliberate. Pike looked back to examine its owner. He was big, broad and shockingly bald. He had a shining pink and olive complexion that gave him a deceptive cherubic appearance. But his eyes were small, black and shrewd. He said:

"You're the new guest."

"That's right," Pike said.

"My name's Bland — Roger Bland. Sit down and have a drink, Mr. Calvin."

Pike sat down. He looked at Roger Bland's thin-stemmed liquor glass.

"Cointreau," Roger Bland said. "Will you have some?"

"No, thank you," Pike said. "Just a highball."

"Scotch and soda?"

Pike nodded. Mr. Bland said: "Luigi. Some Pinch bottle for Mr. Calvin." He turned to Pike. He smiled. It was a brittle and unilluminating smile.

"Now then," he said, "who is it?"

"What?" Pike said.

"You were looking for someone when you came in. Maybe I can

Philippines Black Market

A soldier in Manila: "I ran across your column reporting on black market activities in the Philippines. The article is true—but, for your information, has the army explained to you how these goods get into the black market? I'll name some of the ways. Being a 'yellow ball outfit' truck driver, I can explain some of it.

"Hi-jacking is on a large scale here. There isn't one night that passes that some of our trucks are not hi-jacked. We have no control whatsoever over it. We pick up the cargo on the docks, get checked out and we're on our own. On certain supplies, M. P. guards are supplied—mostly Filipino guards. Can these guards be trusted? Most of us drivers say no.

"Our trucks are hi-jacked—the drivers shot—or are mysteriously gone—no one knows where. Many a time the Filipino guards bring the truck back with no drivers. When asked what's happened, they 'don't know.' Why should they know? Probably they're members of the ring. Our M. P.'s are too busy chasing violators on speeding.

"The speed limit is 20 and 25 miles per hour. If a driver is carrying valuable cargo and no guard, he has to figure how to get to his destination without getting hi-jacked and yet remain within the speed limit. Going along at 20 M.P.H., a child of 10 years could hop on a truck and dump the cargo off without the driver knowing it. So we lose both ways. Slow traveling—lose your cargo. Fast traveling—get a ticket, a summary court-martial and, if you hold a rank, drop a grade or two. That's the army rule in Manila.

"When we first came into the army, we were taught how to handle firearms, protect ourselves, etc. Then why don't the army give side-arms to the truck drivers to protect themselves and their cargo? The war is over now and thank God we're alive and in good health. So why should we protect army goods and vehicles and stand the chance of getting killed?"

"What's happened to these drivers that have mysteriously disappeared or been shot? Does the army print it in the States papers? Or in our daily papers here? Or the Manila papers? No, they don't.

"We ask for protection, and we get Filipino guards. We ask for side-arms. Nothing doing. We refuse to drive—court-martial. We speed at night to stop being pilfered—we get a ticket and the results are busted in rank and a court-martial.

"Is this what we fought for? Is this democracy? If it is—I'll vote socialist and so will 1,000 other yellow ball base drivers when and if we do get home."

Pan American Profits

A soldier in the Azores: "Pan American airlines has 17 mechanics here to service their ships, but GI's keep the base functioning, gas PA's planes, house their passengers and feed them, give out weather reports, manage all communications, supply medical attention. It is small wonder that Pan American has cut the price of fares. Cheap GI labor made this reduction possible. We soldiers didn't mind giving three years of our lives to our country; we damn sure don't want to give another three years to civilian airlines and regular army officers whose careers will suffer a rude termination once demobilization is effected."

From a soldier at Tacloban, Leyte: "Last night three men in our outfit got court-martialed for such trifling offenses as not wearing their dog-tags or having their sleeves rolled up. They make the men get up for reveille while the officers stay in bed. They want to be saluted when met in the company areas. They have their fancy officers' clubs where they drink $40-a-quart whiskey which they get by making deals on government property. Now they are talking of having a retreat formation where all the men must get out after supper wearing all those silly campaign ribbons and parade around like a lot of dressed-up monkeys."

Ninety sailors at Sanford, Fla., naval air station: "There are only two people working on our discharge papers—two civilian girls. One of these girls was given three days off. 'What's another Christ-help you. I know everyone here."

Pike lit a cigaret. He drew on it, then took it out of his mouth and examined it distastefully. There was something behind Roger Bland's casual manner. Pike said:

"A girl with green eyes."

"And red hair?" Mr. Bland said. "It's auburn," Pike said. Bland was looking at Pike oddly. His little black eyes were attentive. He said:

"She's lovely, isn't she?"

"Do you know her?"

"A little. Her name is Miss Tudor. She's John Clay's niece."

"Whose?" Pike tried to keep his tone casual. But he leaned forward a little. The revelation startled him.

"John Clay," Bland said. "You know John Clay."

"I've heard of him," Pike said. "Who hasn't?" Bland replied.

Pike was suddenly conscious of Luigi, the bartender. He was leaning his elbows on the bar staring at them with a kind of dull watchfulness in his eyes. He saw Pike looking his way and picked up a glass and began to polish it, whistling that "Gloomy Sunday" thing.

Pike looked at his watch. Twelve-thirty. An hour and a half before he called Sam. And until then he'd better lie low. He smiled at Roger Bland. He said:

"Luigi seems to have forgotten my drink."

From the bar Luigi said: "Coming right up, sir."

"He hears well," Pike said. "He's had plenty of practice," Bland said.

Luigi brought the drink, Pike paid for it, and Bland let him. Pike tasted his drink. It was Scotch, but it was not Pinch-bottle. He wasn't surprised. That was the way John Clay made his money.

He practiced deceptions, little and big; he bought cheap and he sold dear. But the man had grown big. He cast a huge shadow. He had influence. He was a force to be reckoned with. Roger Bland said:

"You came up here to see John Clay, didn't you?"

Pike swallowed his drink and stood up. He looked at his watch again. Twelve-thirty-three. Three minutes and this Roger Bland was dispassionately and expertly picking Pike's brain. And he wasn't even paying for the privilege.

Bland stood up, too. He was a good head taller than Pike, and despite his bulk, he looked very agile and fit. He laid a hand on Pike's arm.

"I could tell you something about this situation up here, Mr. Calvin. For example, I have a little information about Mary Butler."

"Mary Butler?" Pike stared at the man. "What about Mary Butler?"

Bland's hand on Pike's arm tightened. Pike could feel the powerful fingers bite into the flesh as Bland urged him out on the patio. The sunlight was fresh and inviting after that little dinginess behind them. Bland took out a demitasse-sized cigar and offered it to Pike. Pike shook his head. Bland pared the end meticulously with his penknife and said:

"If I were you, I would not talk quite so freely. Possibly there are a few things you do not know."

He lit the cigar, flicked the match out with his forefinger, and tossed it over his shoulder. "Here everyone listens."

He puffed thoughtfully on his cigar.

"Mary Butler was a lovely girl, too."

"I have never met her," Pike said.

Roger Bland looked at him. For the first time since they had met, Pike detected a hint of sincerity in those bright little eyes. But it faded instantly. Bland said:

"I think we have need of each other. I know what happened."

Pike resisted asking the obvious question: What did happen? Some unforeseen eventuality—that was a neat euphemism for it—had changed matters and Pike was completely in the dark. He knew too little. And his ignorance might lead to a blunder that could prove fatal.

Pike savored the adjective and Macedonia is the ultimate in confused border lands—a region of numerous and long-conflicting interests. There, in an area the size of Wisconsin, live some 2,000,000 people divided by a dozen different tongues and into seven rival religious groups. Three nations — Greece, Bulgaria, and Yugoslavia—share this bone of contention; of two of them would like a larger share in order to have an outlet on the Aegean sea.

X. MACEDONIA
 This is the last of a series of TEN articles under the general title, ORPHAN AREAS OF EUROPE. The stories have been prepared by the National Geographic Society for the Democrat-Capital to inform readers about disputed areas in Europe whose forms of government and economic relations with neighboring countries may have to be determined by negotiations among the Allied powers.

BY THE NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY
 The vortex of the political whirlpool known as the Balkan peninsula—where history has long reflected strife, violence and oppression — is a loosely-bounded area called Macedonia. There difficult problems defy the wisdom of a Solomon—for over two million people of varying racial strains, creeds, and tongues live in some 55,000 square miles divided among three neighboring nations. Macedonia, roughly fan-shaped, is bordered on the southeast by the Aegean sea and stretches east, north, and west from Salonika, its chief city and principal port. Touched on the east by the Nestos river and the majestic Rhodope mountains, Macedonia includes much of the southern lobe of Yugoslavia, and reaches on the west to the Albanian border. Macedonia's generally accepted southwestern border meets the sea just north of famed Mount Olympus. The region is drained by two important rivers, the Vardar and the Struma, which have cut valuable outlets for the inner Balkans. An important east-west route which skirts the sea from southern Greece to Istanbul (Constantinople) passes through southern Macedonia.

is rich in history. An important Greek colony, it was a busy Roman port, and became the second city of the Byzantine Empire. Sacked by the Saracens in 904 and by the Normans in 1185, it later fell into the hands of the Venetians. The Turks took the city in 1430 and ruled it for nearly 500 years. A beautiful white tower-fort, built by Suleiman the Magnificent at the height of Turkish power, still stands guard over Salonika. The city's importance today stems from the fact that it is the only first-class port of the north Aegean and lies at the mouth of the Vardar depression, route of the principal railroad line from Belgrade, Budapest, and beyond. Yugoslavia, deprived of good Adriatic ports by the lofty Dinaric Alps, looks south for an outlet, as does Bulgaria. Three nations—Greece, Bulgaria, and Yugoslavia—share Macedonia, making it a bone of contention.

Most Are Shepherds
 The northern reaches of Macedonia are ridged with rugged and diverse mountain chains which girdle hilly plains. There the climate is continental, and a nomadic shepherd's life is the lot of most inhabitants. Farther south, a series of broad alluvial plains stretches across the seacoast regions—fertile basins with a Mediterranean climate which produces grains, tobacco, grapes, figs, apricots, and similar crops. Much tobacco smoked in America and labeled Turkish is really from Macedonia.

This southern section is better developed and more populated. Beneath its surface lies oil, as yet practically untapped. Along the coast itself, the vastly irregular Chalkidike (Chalcidice) peninsula thrusts its three rocky promontories tridentlike into the sea. The easternmost of the three is the site of famous Mt. Athos monastery, where it has long been the rule that no woman—not even a female animal—shall be admitted.

Speak Different Tongues
 Macedonia's population consists of Serbs, Bulgarians, Greeks, nomad Vlachs, Albanians, Turks, Gypsies and Jews. The inhabitants speak a dozen different tongues and are divided into seven rival religious groups. There, indeed, is the land of Babel—a "tangle of tongues," a "dumping ground of peoples," a museum of racial strains.

A crossroads battleground since prehistoric times, Macedonia was subdued by ancient Persia in the early 5th century B. C. It has known the rule of Philip and Alexander the Great, the sway of the Romans, Byzantines, barbarian Slavs, and Turks. Saint Paul established the first Christian churches there, and Saints Cyril and Methody, creators of the Slavonic alphabet still used throughout eastern Europe, went north from Salonika to enlighten the barbarians.

In the 15th century the rising tide of Islam inundated all the Balkans and beat against the gates.

More cheese is produced by Wisconsin than by any other state.

There'll be NO NIGHTMARE in my dream home

★ "I've had enough of the nightmare of playing furnace man . . . of galloping cellar stairs. I'm going to have automatic gas heating . . . and nothing else will do!"

When building of the nation's postwar homes begins, many of the things that were "good enough" a few years ago are going to rate as something strictly of a dark and ancient age. And features not long ago regarded as exclusive to the costly residence will be found well within the building and operating budgets of less expensive homes.

During these war years, Mr. and Mrs. Arperica have done some pencil-and-paper figuring in regard to heating systems. Surprisingly, perhaps, they have discovered that the comfort, convenience and cleanliness of automatic gas heating costs no more in the long run. With gas, there will be no fuel delivery and residue disposal costs. There will be less need for renewal of interior decoration or expensive seasonal cleanings of rugs, draperies and furnishings. Even doctor bills may be fewer because of healthier, controlled temperature.

Little wonder that thousands of plans for everything from mansions to bungalows bear in their "must" specifications those three important words . . . automatic gas heating.

land to produce the things we need and still have good land. Success depends 100% on the land, 90% on the man. It takes fertility to get good cover that will hold soil losses to a minimum.

In looking back a number of years Klemme pointed out that much progress has been made by farmers as well as other people and that more progress was on the way but, that these new improvements and conveniences must be paid for with products which come from the land and that this could best be accomplished by a balanced system of farming in which the entire farm was taken into consideration.

J. C. Morris Speaks
J. C. Morris, County Extension Agent, discussed briefly "Our Job Ahead." He said that our job ahead is to do a still better job of farming to keep agriculture in the place where it belongs. He pointed out that farmers have produced more per person in the past year than ever before and that again this year much will be expected of them with a limited amount of additional labor saving machinery. In considering some things which have been done in Pettis county, Mr. Morris pointed out that approximately 75,000 tons of limestone had been applied to Pettis county land in the last five years but that we are now using only about 10% of the fertilizer necessary to replace the plant food we take out of the soil each year.

Mr. Morris told of the need of farm planning to chart our course in order to know where we are going in the years ahead. He said that such a plan must be a farmer's plan and that assistance in putting such a plan into operation will come from the extension staff. He stressed the need of adapting the cropping system to the livestock program on the individual farm and also the necessity of arranging the fields so that a system of sanitation can be carried out by rotating the pasture areas. In closing Mr. Morris told farmers of their responsibility to farm youth and of the necessity of leaving them not only the land but also the soil.

Resolutions
The Resolutions Committee consisting of Olen Monsees, chairman, Isaac Snow, and Stevens McClure presented the following resolutions which were adopted by the conference delegates.

I. Be It Resolved by the delegates at the 22nd Annual Clover and Prosperity Conference that it extend a vote of thanks to the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce for its fine cooperation in furthering the agricultural interests of Pettis county.

II. Be It Resolved that a vote of thanks be extended to the ladies of the First Methodist Church of Sedalia for the splendid luncheon served at the 22nd Annual Clover and Prosperity Conference.

III. Whereas surveys on insect population indicate a heavy infestation of insects, especially chinch bugs, Be It Resolved that previously existing committees, both county and state, be renewed and, if necessary, reorganized to cooperate with state and federal authorities to limit and control the damage which may result from this threat.

IV. Whereas Noxious weeds, especially bindweed, are growing in Pettis county, Be It Resolved that the Clover and Prosperity Conference delegates support the program being carried out by the Weed Control Committee.

Appreciation For Program
V. Whereas the Clover and Prosperity Conference is the longest established and best supported of any farm meetings as evidenced by the splendid attendance at this, the 22nd annual meeting, and that this conference for 22 years has held the interest of both farm leaders and businessmen by the splendid programs it has presented, this year's program is no departure from the records of the past years; therefore, Be It Resolved that a vote of thanks be extended to every person who appeared on, or assisted in preparation of this program.

VI. Be It Resolved that we commend our Extension Agents for their splendid work, not only in soil conservation, but to the other programs that have been so beneficial to Pettis county agriculture.

VII. Be It Resolved that the Clover and Prosperity Conference delegates pledge themselves to follow such practices and management as will result in efficient production of the food and fiber needed in meeting the county poster needs.

VIII. Whereas the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce is demonstrating its interest in promoting balanced systems of farming in Pettis county by providing funds to employ a trained man for helping farmers in working out such plans, Be It Resolved that this conference extend its whole-hearted approval and thanks.

Resolution Of Sympathy
IX. Whereas Judge J. L. McCurdy has long been an outstanding citizen and farmer and always gave loyal support to sound agricultural programs, Be It Resolved that the delegates assembled in the 22nd annual Clover and Prosperity Conference extend a vote of sympathy to his family.

X. Be It Resolved that copies of these resolutions be sent to the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce,

Jenkins Ins. Co. Sold By Owner To Three Sons

Mrs. C. A. Jenkins To Retire. Jack Connelly To Manage Business

Mrs. C. A. Jenkins, Dean apartments, owner and manager of the Jenkins Insurance Company, has sold the business to her three sons, Major C. A. Jenkins, Jr., Lieut. Col. Edward L. Jenkins, both of the army, and Commander Thomas H. Jenkins, U. S. Navy. After the first of February she will go to Florida for a sojourn of several weeks.

Managing the business will be another well known Sedalia, Jack Connelly, who was released from the army, where he held the rank of Captain, on November 10, after five years in military duty. He was 20 months overseas with the 35th Fighter Group, Air Corps, in the Pacific. Mrs. Connelly, a former Fresno, Calif., girl, will be in charge of the office, located in the Sedalia Bank and Trust Co., building.

An Established Business
The insurance company is probably the oldest in the city, dating back to 1882. The late C. A. Jenkins, the first member of the Jenkins family in the business, purchased the Quisenberry and Nelson Insurance Company, later adding the A. P. Espenchied company. At the death of Mr. Jenkins, in 1929, Mrs. Jenkins took charge and has continued its operation most successfully since. With the close of the war the sons, who were in the midst of activities, for a considerable length of time, now want to relieve their mother of the responsibility and have persuaded her to retire.

Major Jenkins, who is with the 78th division, and has been in Berlin, is expected to arrive in the states today for a 45-day leave. His wife, during his absence, has been making her home with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Allee, in Wadsworth, Kas. Dr. Allee is a Colonel in the army, stationed at Fort Leavenworth.

Lt. Col. Edward L. Jenkins has been in service 11 years, over 15 months recently with the Far East Forces. His wife has made her home in St. Louis during his absence.

Commander Thomas H. Jenkins enlisted in the service nine years ago, and has seen 38 months overseas service.

Warrant Officer George Petty Home On Terminal Leave

"Walking geography" describes in part the qualifications of Warrant Officer (j.g.) George Petty, of Sedalia, in his duties as a member of a spearhead military government detachment that served in France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany. Petty, who has been in active service over five years, leaving here with the National Guard units, returned home the first of last week after 21 months overseas.

The warrant officer, who is on terminal leave until March 1 when his discharge will become effective, is visiting his mother, Mrs. George E. Petty, Jr., and Mr. E. M. of 604 West Broadway.

When the detachment was pinpointed to move into a certain territory, sometimes in three days and other times three months later, the men immediately began a detailed study of that area. They learned the name of the mayor of the contested city, the population, number of churches, schools, hotels, the names of all the streets, the religious preference of the community, political leanings, etc.

Equipped For Allied Control
Forearmed with such knowledge the teams were specifically equipped for the work of allied control. Main duties of the military government units were first to supply army needs and second to maintain civilians above starvation levels of living. No luxuries, however, were allowed the conquered populations, Petty declared.

For the final four months of his overseas duty he was postal, telephone and telegraph officer in charge of some 5,000 miles of communication lines in an area in Germany of 1,000,000 population. Petty was then headquartered at Darmstadt.

Efficiency sometimes necessitated the modification of hard and fast rules concerning the employment of Germans classified as Nazis. Petty explained. For instance, all postal employees had been required to hold membership in the reichspostbund, but not all were active in the party. If the employees had been "fired" en masse the postal system would have been entirely disrupted. Therefore, those who were found to be inactive in Reich activities were retained in technical, but not policy-making, positions.

Another Exception
Another example of an exception was a man who knew the locations of the cable lines in Darmstadt. All maps and diagrams of the underground cable system had been destroyed before the entry of the Allies, and it would have taken long hours of digging to locate breaks. The man who had the needed information was "screened," found to be only a nominal party member and was retained as a tentative employee subject at any time to release.

Re-education has begun over most of Germany, Petty said. Certain college professional courses, such as medicine, nursing and law, have been resumed.

New concepts of history, governments and philosophies will be contained in textbooks provided by the Allies, or in rewritten texts sanctioned by the military government.

In Supervisory Capacity
In his post-victory work Petty was assigned to the regional team of Landhessen, which was in supervisory capacities of a zone that was set up much like a state in this country.

Detached from the 231st Field Artillery in January, 1943, Petty left the United States in April of that year with a casual company for England where he studied military government for five months, and upon completion of this specialized training he was assigned to the detachment which moved onto the continent with attack troops.

During the special course the trainees acquired a practical knowledge of French, more extensive familiarity with German and a thorough grounding in governmental structures.

The Sedalia first went into action near Arnheim, Holland, and entered Germany before the fall of Aachen, vital western front bastion, on October 17-18, 1944.

Was With National Guard
Petty entered federal service with the Missouri National Guard, headquarters battery, second battalion of the 128th Field Artillery when mobilization was ordered November 25, 1940, and left Sedalia on December 5 with the local batteries. He observed his twenty-fourth birthday anniversary last Friday.

He joined the Guard in April of 1940, a month before he was graduated from Smith-Cotton high school, and received his warrant while in communications work with the 231st F. A., following graduation from the army radio engineering school in Washington, D. C. Petty also attended a frequency modulation theory school at Lexington, Ky., in his early army training.

Petty was interested when he learned that a 128th Club has been formed here, which joins together local men who in the majority hold records for longevity of service in World War II.

Decorations
The warrant officer has four battle stars on his ETO ribbon, also wears the American defense, American theatre, Victory and Good Conduct ribbons and was awarded a meritorious service plaque. He also is entitled to the Occupation ribbon.

Case Continued By Judge Until Next Saturday

Five teen-age youths who were taken in custody by police in connection with ransacking automobiles, and other minor robberies, appeared in juvenile court Saturday morning, accompanied by their parents, relatives, friends, and others, before Judge Dimmitt Hoffman stated he would continue the case until next Saturday at which time he would announce the decision of the court, whether to sentence them to the State Reformatory at Booneville, or to place them under probation to their parents or those who care to sponsor the boys.

MOVED OVER TO LIBERTY THEATRE

Those glamorous, scandalous Dolly Sisters who set the world aflame with their song and broke a million hearts along the way come to the screen of the Liberty Theatre today in the persons of Betty Grable and June Haver in the new 20th Century-Fox Technicolor musical extravaganza, "The Dolly Sisters." Both Betty and June have blonde hair, blue eyes and (as if you couldn't observe for yourself) glamorous measurements. In the film they share eighty-six acting scenes as well as seven spectacular song-and-dance numbers.

Charge Having Inadequate Brakes

C. C. Hatch of Cherity, Mo., was charged with having inadequate brakes on his 1940 Willis pick-up truck, and is to appear in court of Justice A. M. Harlan Tuesday as a result of an accident at 12:15 o'clock Friday one half mile west of Sedalia on Highway 50. His machine collided with a truck owned by the Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. of Sedalia and driven by Elmer Lane, of 514 East Salve street when he attempted to pass the truck the driver of which signaled for a left turn. Hatch said that he did not see the signal. No one was hurt and damages were estimated as being $10 to the Hatch machine and $50 to the truck.

ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING departments in radio is that of sound effects. Here's the answer to every man's prayer—the opportunity to tinker and experiment to one's heart desire. But it can be slightly exasperating at times. Take for instance the assignment for "July 16th, 234 A.B."—KMBC's contribution to the New Year's day of programs.

PHONE RINGS. Gene Dennis of production notifies Eddie Edwards of sound effects. "Make us up the sound of an atomic bomb exploding." Now, there's one for you! Most of those who had the misfortune of actually hearing an atomic bomb are not around to tell about it. But that's the order, and you can count on KMBC's sound effects to come up with something. After three days of research, imagination and brow sweat, Edwards and Leon Murray of engineering turned over the finished product—which according to government scientists, was a good facsimile thereof. Here's how it was done.

A SELECTIVE LIST of effect records were carefully blended together. These included boiler room noises, launching of torpedoes, an ammunition dump exploding, etc. To these effects were then added, one at a time, manual devices within KMBC's studios—including a huge air tank for one. All of which took three full days of labor—just to take care of 26 seconds of air time on a KMBC production. Such is just one story behind the scenes of radio.

HISTORY was made New Years' Eve in Kansas City when KMBC-FM became one of the first stations in the country to operate on its newly assigned high frequency of 97.9 mc. This accomplishment is a real tribute to the "know-how" of the station's engineering staff. Listeners will find, too, that KMBC-FM still operates as well on its old frequency of 46.5 mc, as it has for the past year and a half. What does all this mean to the radio set owner? Well, as soon as new sets are available including the high frequency band, you should receive your KMBC-FM programs with less interference. KMBC-FM is now operating regularly on the 97.9 mc band only from 5:30 p. m. until 7 p. m., Mondays through Fridays. On the 46.5 mc band, present operating times are weekdays from 12 noon to 2:30 p. m. and from 5:30 until 9 p. m. Saturdays from 12 noon until 6 p. m. and from 9 p. m. until midnight; and on Sundays from 8:30 a. m. until 11:30 a. m., and from 9 p. m. until midnight.

THE FIRST OF THE YEAR is a good time to recognize those with the longest service records around KMBC. As for "air personalities," P. Hans Flath, musical director, heads the list with 16 years. His organ melodies from 11:05 p. m. Tuesdays thru Fridays make for top-flight late-hour listening. Bob Crawford of "The Texas Rangers" is overseas but has 15 years to his credit. Herbie Kratoska is next up with 13 years. By the way—it's a better Herbie than ever with Harry Jenks Tuesdays and Thursdays at 5:15 p. m. and Saturdays at 2:30 p. m. And still another KMBC favorite of long standing is Caroline Ellis of "The Happy Home" (8:30 a. m. weekdays). She's made friends for KMBC since 1933.

And that appears to be 980 from here.

Swedish Angel Comes Here On Next Tuesday

Graham To Meet Lou Newman; Girl's Will Open The Matches

WRESTLING SCHEDULE Main Event Swedish Angel vs. Ralph Garibaldi Stockholm, Sweden East St. Louis Two falls out of three—30 minute limit.

Semi-Undup Lou Newman vs. Ray Graham Seattle, Wash. Dallas, Texas Two falls out of three—45 minute limit.

Opening Event Juanita Coffman vs. Evelyn Wall Houston, Texas Corpus Christi, Texas One fall with 30 minute limit. Time—8:30 Tuesday night. Place—State Guard Armory. Referee—Marshall Estep.

A sensational wrestler is coming to Sedalia next Tuesday night to match wits with Ralph Garibaldi, East St. Louis, Ill., in the local ring at the State Guard Armory. It is none other than the famous Swedish Angel, who has attracted thousands of fans throughout the country and is still a drawing card in the matches at Kansas City, Kas. The Angel hails from Stockholm, Sweden, and has been in this country several years.

To give a little color to the matches, the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, will have a women's match as the opener on the card. Meeting in this opener will be Juanita Coffman of Houston, Texas, and Evelyn Wall, Corpus Christi, Texas. The two young women are very active and provided good entertainment last week although both were on the losing end of their match.

The rough, tough, fighting wrestler, Ray Graham of Dallas, Texas, comes to Sedalia to meet Lou Newman of Seattle, Washington, in the semi-undup event on the card. Graham who has put himself in a class by himself as a wrestler says he does not care what the fans think, just as long as he wins a wrestling match.

Newman, a new comer to the ring in this area, plans on an attack all of his own, since learning of the tactics that Graham uses to win. It may turn into a real rough house before the evening is over, but the fans are assured they will put on a match which will cause the blood pressure to go up.

The Angel, according to his scrap book has won over 1,500 matches during his wrestling career. He was outstanding in his home land and since coming to the States has won favor throughout the country as a real entertainer. Garibaldi needs no introduction, and he is expected to give the Angel some trouble in their final appearance on the card.

Largest Bear Is Killed In Oregon

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—The shooting of one of the largest black bears ever seen in these parts, was reported here today.

The animal, felled in the Fort Klamath region with a single shot, weighed 485 pounds dressed and was estimated to have weighed 615 pounds alive. Taxidermists said the average black bear's weight is 400 pounds.

The specimen was obtained by Harold Brisco and Marvin Roecker, Fort Klamath, who trailed tracks through the snow. Hide of the bear, believed to have been 20 or 25 years old, measured 7 feet 5 inches from head to tail, 7 feet 3 inches from claw to claw.

Sport Scraps

(By D. KELLY SCRUTON)

I note the Pettis County Athletic Association which is composed of high schools not only in Pettis County but from Morgan and Benton counties, there are two additional teams. The association or conference originally began with eight teams and in 1944 Sacred Heart high school was accepted as a member, and this year Warsaw was added.

There is a little more than "just adding" Warsaw. L. L. Freund, former superintendent and Coach of the Houstonia high school is now down at Warsaw. As I see it Coach Freund just couldn't stand to be coaching a team and not competing against his old "enemies" of the PCAA, so he wiggled an invitation to "join up."

After all Freund was one of the main stays of the PCAA along with Glenn R. Snyder, of Hughesville, who is now president. Snyder has devoted much time to the conference and probably keeps in closer contact with the Democrat-Capital sports department than any of the other nine schools.

The Association has always enjoyed success and with the competition it still has, will continue to enjoy this same success.

Football: Only conference in 1944 and 1945 that produced 2 Bowl Champs.

Basketball: The conference that produced the National 1945 Champ and only conference in 1942 to produce contenders in 2 accepted National Tournaments.

Wrestling: Oklahoma Aggies won NCAA title 14 years. Track: Drake and A & M prominent nationally. Swimming: Washington near top annually.

YES SIR, The Missouri Tigers went to Dallas—they got beat—but one thing for sure, Texas knew there was another country besides Texas and that is "Missouri". Something else, nothing but praise for the fighting Tigers was on the typewriters of the sports editors of that great State, and would you believe it—IT GOT INTO THE TEXAS PAPERS.

My good friend—and furnisher of lots of things I write—Fred Hulse, Sr., brought back the Dallas Morning News which gave a most interesting account of the game. I was pleased to have an opportunity to get one of the papers because I "feared" it might be censored at the border and would not get to this other "foreign" country of Missouri.

A record was set in this game for the most points to be scored in a Bowl Game. The total points of Texas 40, Missouri 27 wins over the old high being 50. The old record was set four years ago by Alabama's 29 to 21 triumph over Texas Aggies. The Longhorns also preserved a record of not having lost a Bowl game.

The one paragraph which was an eye catcher by the Missourians was, "Yet, the Southwest Conference champions were never made to look so badly on defense as they were by the fighting forward line they've run against in years."

Tony Zale Fights In K. C. Monday

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Ex-sailor Tony Zale, of Gary, Ind., world's middleweight boxing champion, will make his first ring start since February, 1942, in a 10-round over-weight bout with Bobby Giles, Buffalo, N. Y., here Monday night.

Released from the Navy in October, Zale arrived here today from Chicago where, he said, he has been in training for almost three months. Zale lost a 12-round decision to Billy Conn in his last start.

"I weigh 162 pounds and feel pretty strong," Zale said, "but I know my timing has suffered by the long layoff."

Art Winch, Zale's manager, said the former golden gloves champion will need a few more warmup fights "before he meets Graziano or Lamotta in a championship match."

Three Teams Undeclared In PCAA League

Stover, Warsaw And Cole Camp Tied Up For First Place

The fight for the lead in PCAA High School Basketball League as of January 1st resulted in a tie for first place between the Cole Camp, Warsaw and Stover teams, none of which teams having as yet suffered defeat in conference competition.

Cole Camp has produced the most potent offense and the best defense, however, followed closely by Warsaw. Hughesville is in 2nd place with four wins and one loss followed by Green Ridge which team has won 3 and lost 2. The leaders have not met as yet.

In the girls volleyball competition Stover and Cole Camp are tied for the lead with 4 wins and no losses while Hughesville is in 2nd place with 4 wins and 1 loss. Smithton and Lincoln have broken even in their games to date, to tie for 3rd place.

Drew Confers On Kentucky Job

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Harold S. (Red) Drew, assistant coach of Alabama's Rose Bowl champs, conferred for three hours this afternoon with directors of the University of Kentucky athletic association about Kentucky's head football coaching job.

In addition, he consulted with Dr. H. L. Donovan, university president and chairman of the board of directors. He also talked with Athletic Director Bernie Shively, who resigned the head football coachship, and basketball Coach Adolph Rupp.

Dr. Donovan said after the meeting that the directors still had several other prospects for the head coaching job to interview next week, and any action on filling the vacancy would come after the interviews.

Drew's stature as a candidate for the post grew after Henry Frnka gave up his Tulsa post and signed yesterday as Tulane's new head grid coach. Frnka had been ranked along with Duke's Wallace Dade as top choices in the Kentucky directors' search for a "big-name" coach. Wade decided to stay at Duke.

Dr. Donovan said Drew, end coach at Alabama, had been recommended highly. Some of these recommendations credited Drew with contributing greatly to Head Coach Frank Thomas' success with the Crimson Tide.

Frosh Like Elephant, He Doesn't Forget His 60-Yard Run

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 5.—(NFA)—Larry Joe was one of coach Bob Higgins' first wartime football freshmen in 1942. Larry came to Penn State from Derry High, where he had distinguished himself by a long touchdown run in the school's big game. He harped so much on this feat he fell behind in his scholastic marks.

"Forget about that 50-yard run and concentrate on your studies," warned Higgins, "or else." With a dead-pan expression, Larry Joe replied: "But, sir, it was a 60-yard run."

On his 52nd birthday recently Higgins received a note from his former frosh, still in Europe, which read: "Will be back in March. And don't forget that 60-yard run."

Byron Nelson Holds A Lead In L. A. Open

Has Par 71 In His First Rounds And 2 Under On Second

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Hitting 'em long, straight and into the cups, tournament favorite Byron Nelson fired a two-under par 69 challenge at the field today and a 36-hole total of 140 to go into the second round lead, at least temporarily, of the 72 hole Los Angeles open.

After a par 71 yesterday for the Rivera course, good in most instances but not in present company, Nelson came back with a bang to hand the 7000 yard layout a pasting. He ended up with a birdie 3 on the 18th, sinking a 15 foot putt where yesterday he missed one less than 18 inches.

"I had to make up for that poor putt yesterday," golf's greatest money winner said with a smile. Nelson's round put him to the forefront among the early finishers. Three strokes behind him finished Harold McSpaden, Sanford, Me., whose one-under 70 today gave him a two round total of 143.

Former PGA champion Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., tacked up a 74 for a 36 hole total of 144. Nelson hit every green but the 14th in standard figures. He three putted the 4th but otherwise rammed the ball into the cup.

Card: Par out 544 343 444—35 Nelson out 444 443 444—35 Par in 454 343 354—36—71 Nelson in 454 434 253—34—69

Other early starters came in as follows:

Amateur Ray Sleppy, Inglewood, Calif., 73—146; Ellsworth Vines, Denver, 73—147; Art Doering, Denver, 75—148; Charles Congdon, Tacoma, Wash., 77—149.

J. C. Jays To Play Here On Wednesday

S-C Intra-Mural And Sunday School Leag To Start

The Smith-Cotton Tigers will open the 1945 basketball season in a game, Wednesday night with the Jefferson City high school Jays on the local court. This game was postponed last December until this month due to sickness in the Capitol City schools.

It's a full week for the Tigers as on Friday they go to Kirksville to play and then Saturday night meet the Missouri Military Academy team at Mexico, Mo. The three games for the week are conference contests of the Central Missouri Conference.

The Tigers have already one conference game under their belt, Hannibal, which team they played there in December while their only other regular season game with Marshall was won by the local aggregation. To date the Tigers have won six unofficial contests and two regular season games.

Laying off during Christmas week, the Tigers found it necessary to get in two practice sessions a day the past week to work off the Christmas "fat." However, with each practice the team appeared to be getting better and better and should be considered stiff competition for other conference teams.

Intra-Mural Games

This coming week the Intra-Mural program is expected to get under way. There are twenty-one teams in this program and should prove out an interesting program during the remainder of the basketball season. These teams all had at least one practice game during the holidays and are now ready to start on the regular schedule.

Coach Albert Steiner, stated the schedule of games would be announced probably Monday. The work of drafting the schedule was taken up this week and will be completed in time for all teams to get in at least one game this week.

Sunday School League

The Sunday School League will get underway next Saturday with at least five teams participating. Today Sacred Heart, First Baptist, East Sedalia Baptist church, all have teams while another team is composed of players from the First Christian and Fifth Street Methodist church, and still another of players from several other churches. The latter teams will be known as the All-Church team and will be captained by Billy Holst.

It is being impressed on the boys in the league, that all boys must attend Sunday school, otherwise they cannot play on any of the teams. Sunday school attendance is necessary, it was explained by Coach Steiner.

Walker Brothers Got Start In Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Sale of Walker Brothers to the New York Giants recalled to fans here his first appearance in a Springfield uniform in 1935, when he was signed to a local contract—without costing the local club a cent.

His older brother, Morton Cooper, pitcher, had signed a contract after being paid $75 and recommended his "kid brother." He came here and was farmed to the Rogers, Ark., club for a season before rejoining Springfield as a member of the famous brother battery. Now both of them have been sold by the St. Louis Cardinals for a fortune.

The Nation's College Sports Officials Meet

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The nation's college athletic officials will converge on St. Louis next week to wrestle with tough post-war problems, not the least of which is a record pile of suggested football rule changes.

Topping the list of important meetings is the National Collegiate Athletic Association's 40th annual session, which will open Tuesday. Also on tap are gatherings of the American Football Coaches' Association and the College Physical Education Association. The recently-organized American Association of College Baseball Coaches will hold an executive session.

Professionalism in college football will be one of the prime subjects up for discussion, with Dr. Arthur H. Compton, chancellor of Washington University of St. Louis, to address the NCAA council on what he describes as its threat to college sports.

The NCAA football rules committee will begin a four-day session next Thursday—and appears to be headed for a busy time. Chairman William J. Bingham of Harvard reported he had received the greatest number of suggestions for rules revisions in history.

The thorny problem of freshmen eligibility, now that the war has ended, is also likely to come before the general sessions. Between technical and policy-making forums, visitors will hear Maj. Gen. William Donovan, head of the Army's office of strategic services; Brig. Gen. F. A. Hart, director of Marine Corps public relations, and Gov. Phil M. Donnelly of Missouri.

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson of the Big Ten said that since nine of the Conference's athletic directors will be in the city, they would hold a special meeting "to tie up some loose strings."

Billy Conn Starts Training For Fight

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Heavyweight Billy Conn went into training here today for his bout with Champion Joe Louis. In his first workout since arriving yesterday, the Pittsburgh battler who is "very confident" he will beat Louis, put in several hours at the punching bag, skipping rope and limbering up exercises.

He said he hoped the weather would permit him to play golf tomorrow. The challenger will be on his road work in Oakland Park as soon as the one-mile race track is dry.

Milton Jaffee, close associate of Conn, said there definitely would be no tune-up fight before Conn meets the Brown Bomber.

W. Cooper Is Sold By Cards To N. Y. Giants

One Of The Biggest Money Deals Ever In Baseball History

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals today announced the sale of star catcher Walker Cooper to the New York Giants and infielder Jimmy Brown to the Pittsburgh Pirates in two transactions opening what may prove to be a record talent-selling year for any major league baseball club.

Cooper was sold for $175,000 in one of the three biggest money deals in all baseball history, it was reported in New York.

Brown, regular second baseman on the 1942 championship Red Bird team, was sold for an undisclosed amount of cash which the Cardinals officials said "ran into five figures."

Sam Breadon, Cardinals' president, declined to disclose or discuss the amount of money involved in the two transactions which were straight cash deals and involved no other players.

The sale of Cooper marked the first big deal ever made by the Cardinals that sent away a first line regular with no matching replacement in sight.

However, Breadon asserted Cooper "told me four or five times that he wanted to be traded, that he didn't want to remain with the Cardinals."

"He made his statement to me in my hotel room at Chicago during the world series. Then when Cooper was transferred to Lambert Field where he is now stationed with the Navy he called on me. By that time Eddie Dyer had been appointed manager of the Cardinals, to replace Billy Southworth. Walker told me then that he didn't want to play for Dyer."

Breadon said the sale of Cooper was not going to weaken the Cardinals this year. "Prospects are that Walker will remain in the Navy through part or most of the 1946 season, so he wouldn't be available for duty."

"We have some young catchers coming up, some of them likely to be out of service soon and I felt that as long as the Cooper deal virtually was unavoidable, we might as well make it now."

"Brown is one of the finest men we ever had on the ball club. I regretted very much letting him go. But we have a surplus of infielders and it probably is to Jimmy's best interests to move to a club where he will have more opportunity to play regularly."

Cooper said tonight he considered going with the Giants the "best break I ever had." He confirmed that he had asked Breadon to be traded.

Plenty Outfielders For Browns Next Spring

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—(AP)—There will be plenty of outfielders on hand when the St. Louis Browns open spring training at Anaheim, Calif., on Feb. 20.

Five outfielders, all ex-servicemen, have signed their 1946 contracts, Vice-president Bill Dewitt announced today.

They are Walt Judnich, Joe Grace, Al Zarilla, Glenn "Red" McQuillen and Albert "Fuzz" White. The returned veterans are expected to add a much needed punch to the Browns' offense. Although they finished third in the pennant race last season, the Browns were seventh in team batting. Both Judnich and Grace batted over .300 in their last season before entering the service.

Also available for outfield duty in the 1946 season will be Milt Byrnes, Lou Finney, Chet Laabs, Gene Moore, George Bradley and Boris Martin.

Oh, what they'd give to be in YOUR shoes!

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?

OH, what most of the human race would give to be in your shoes!

Clothing that you may consider old can bring new life to some suffering person to whom war brought despair and destitution.

Goal of the Victory Clothing Collection is 100,000,000 garments, plus shoes and bedding. If your contribution seems negligible, bear this in mind: Every garment you give means one more human being saved from cold or sickness or possibly death.

Where Clothing Will Go

About 25,000,000 people overseas received clothing collected from Americans last spring. But for every person clothed so far, a dozen more remain virtually threadbare. Your spare clothing will be distributed free, without discrimination, to victims of Nazi and Jap oppression in Europe, the Philippines, and the Far East.

Old Clothes—New Friends

In 'most any town or city overseas there is someone who can translate English. You can help build international friendship by writing a simple, friendly letter to pin to the clothing you contribute. Trade your old clothes for new friends!

Dig into your attics, trunks, and closets today... dig out all the serviceable clothing you can possibly spare... take it to your local collection depot now. If you doubt the need for it overseas, ask the boys who've been there!

Before an improvised altar of spruce, poinsettias and baskets of white flowers, illuminated by tapers in two five-branch candelabra, Miss Grace Adela Lamm became the bride of Lieut. (jg) Bobby Boyd Edmondson, U.S.N.R., at 5 o'clock last Sunday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lamm, Jr., Thirty-second street and Ohio avenue. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. R. C. Williamson, pastor of the Congregational Presbyterian church.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edmondson of Barnett, is stationed in the personnel office of the Fourth Naval District separation center, Philadelphia.

The spruce-covered fireplace in the living room was flanked by large floor baskets of white baby chrysanthemums and gladioli and at the base of the fireplace was a row of poinsettia plants, adding color to the background for the wedding. On the mantel was a vase of white blossoms. Undecorated spruce trees were grouped around the newell post of the hall staircase.

The bride, on the arm of her father, descended the stairway to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner, played on the piano by Miss Mabel DeWitt. Her bridal gown of white lace with satin panels in the sweeping skirt that extended into a long train, was fashioned in princess style and had a close-fitting high collar of lace. Her finger-tip length veil was secured to her head with a coronet of orange blossoms. The bride carried a bouquet of white gladioli surrounding a single white orchid.

Miss Betty Bob Scotten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Scotten, a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. Her gown of white was styled with a satin bodice and full net skirt. From a starched lace Juliette cap and streamers of a big net bow fell to her shoulders. Miss Scotten carried an arm bouquet of salmon-hued gladioli.

Leon Keens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Keens, served as ring-bearer, carrying the rings on a white satin pillow.

Van Jones acted as best man for Lieut. Edmondson. Ushers were the bride's brother, Henry Lamm, and Bobby Griessen.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Frances Meyer, accompanied by Miss DeWitt, sang "At Dawning" and "Because," and as the pianist repeated the chorus of the latter song, Miss Doris Boone and Miss Helen Miller, dressed in white formal, lighted the candles. They wore gardenia corsages. Miss DeWitt played "Liebestraume" softly during the exchange of vows and the Mendelssohn Wedding March at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Following the wedding, attended by relatives and close friends of the families, a reception was held. Cedar roping outlined the archway into the dining room. Tiny white chrysanthemums and baby's breath encircled the three-star wedding cake on the lace-covered table, and a large low bouquet of poinsettias added to the floral decorations.

After the bride had cut the first piece, Mrs. Harvey Keens served the cake and Mrs. Ed Heffernan presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Lamm received in an Alice blue afternoon frock, and Mrs. Edmondson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black dress trimmed with black sequins. Both wore purple orchid corsages.

Immediately after the reception Lieut. and Mrs. Edmondson left for Philadelphia where they have an apartment awaiting them.

The bride, who graduated from Smith-Cotton high school, is a graduate of Central Missouri State college, Warrensburg, where she was a member of Sigma Sigma sorority. Lieut. Edmondson, also is a graduate of the college, and has been in military service three years. He received his commission last April and returned in October from duty in the Pacific area. He previously had served overseas.

Mrs. Edmondson, the former Miss Lamm, chose a navy blue suit with a matching hat for her traveling costume, and her short-length coat of Kelly green was trimmed with Persian lamb. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Edmondson and daughters, Misses Barbara Lee and Lenora of Barnett, Mrs. O. L. Houts of Warrensburg, Misses Myra Ann and Alice Irene Searfuss of Marshall, Mrs. Florence Routen and Miss Jeanne Routen of Barnett, Miss Lura Spearman of Jefferson City and B. E. Business and Professional Women's Rules

Ten commandments for business and professional women to guide them during 1946 were issued yesterday by Miss Margaret A. Hickey of St. Louis, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Miss Hickey was formerly chairman of the Woman's Advisory Committee of the War Manpower Commission. She heads her own school for secretaries.

The commandments listed by Miss Hickey are: 1. Take a positive attitude toward your career. Expect to succeed. 2. Preach the doctrine that there should be jobs enough to go around in the United States. 3. Broaden your horizon. Help to find jobs for veterans and those needing employment. 4. Don't worry about your competitors. Be just a little more competent than they are. 5. Eliminate fear. Know your work and you'll hold your job or get a better one. 6. Don't think that the men in your office want your job. Work to make this a man's and a woman's world. 7. Build a job reserve of new skills and new ideas that will bring you up-to-date in your field. 8. Save for a rainy day. Then you can afford to venture into a new field or even start a business of your own. 9. Stay young in mind, body and in appearance. 10. Understand the young men and women in your office. Help to train them for better jobs, and when they forge ahead to top positions they will think you indispensable.

Irvin Mattick, information supervisor of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, will be the speaker at Sorsos Monday afternoon at the Heard Memorial clubhouse.

Last summer Mr. Mattick spent about three months at the Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York and New Jersey learning about the more important things that the Bell research organization was doing for the armed forces and the war.

At that time it looked as though the war would go on for some time, but its unexpected termination late last summer now makes it possible for Mr. Mattick to tell of some of the things that the Bell Telephone laboratories did for the war effort which during the war were restricted and secret. There are also some post-war telephone developments that he will tell about.

There has been a change in the program and Mrs. Cecil Owen, chairman of the Art and Drama department was fortunate to secure Mr. Mattick as a speaker.

Z. Lyle Brown, is the district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company in Sedalia.

The Pettis County P.T.A. council will meet at the armory Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Red Cross Corner

A few days ago, a serviceman came into the Red Cross office with a problem which, while not insoluble, was at the same time, difficult, since it was chiefly concerned with the time element. Some specific orders had been misunderstood, a trip into Sedalia from the Sedalia Army Air Field had been made unnecessarily, and a return trip to the base was indicated. The serviceman had to be at the Transportation Department of the SAAF by five o'clock. The next bus did not leave until 5:30. The alternative was being AWOL. So a member of the Red Cross Motor Corps was contacted. She did not hesitate, did not ask any questions, she agreed to take the boy to the base and to go at once. Incidentally, there was rather a large amount of surgical dressings that were needed at the station hospital. Two birds were neatly killed with one stone, as the young soldier willingly took the dressings to the home of the Motor Corps volunteer, and they too were taken to the base. We did not mention names in the Red Cross column, but this story should be of interest to all of us, since it shows that the work of the Red Cross Volunteer Services is being projected into the post war period, and that servicemen still look upon ARC as being "at their side."

Additional Society

The Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic will hold an all day meeting at the Woodman-Maccabee hall Monday with a luncheon served at the noon hour. A business meeting will be held at 2:00 o'clock with installation of officers.

New Year's day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Linhardt and son, 659 East Sixteenth street, were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Linhardt and children, Doris and Jim, of Buncheon; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Linhardt and son, Ray, of Syracuse; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Linhardt of Tipton (Alvin Linhardt recently returned from military service in Germany); Mr. and Mrs. Ed Linhardt of Syracuse;

Attention Please, Sewing Machines! It is highly probable that three sewing machines will be needed to complete the current quota of sewed garments. If you have a sewing machine, that is in good condition and which will be available within the next few days, please call the Red Cross office, 618. The loan will be for a brief time only. This quota is composed of slips and petticoats and we all know how urgent is the need for such garments by the people in the European zone. You can do your bit in this project by lending your sewing machine to the Red Cross for a short period.

Attention, Knitters! A new quota of Khaki yarn has been received and is ready for distribution. This consignment consists of OD sweaters, slip-over style, sleeveless and with sleeves. Remember, we still have an army, and the men in that army still need sweaters. It is the privilege of Red Cross Volunteer knitters to see to it that they are supplied.

W. H. Roberts Purchases Hotel Property

Operates Grocery Store In Part Of Building Sold

The St. Francis Hotel property, Third street and Lamine avenue, which was placed on the "block" Saturday was purchased by W. Howard Roberts, owner of the Howard Roberts grocery, 118 East Third street. Mr. Roberts' bid was the highest and the purchase price was $26,000. The sale was made at the court house about 2:15 o'clock by Deputy Sheriff Ernest Byer, who handled the proceedings for Sheriff E. W. Goetz, unable to be present.

A partition suit had been previously filed in circuit court by note holders on the property and a court order was made by the court for the sale of the building. James I. Riley, 1432 South Carr avenue, was also a bidder on the property.

Started at $15,000

The bidding started off at $15,000, jumped to $20,000, then to $21,000. From then on the bidders offered $100 each time they made a bid, then dropped to $50 bidding until it reached $26,000. At this point Mr. Roberts offered the $26,000 and when bidding stopped he was the purchaser.

Mr. Roberts stated he purchased the property as an investment, as the building he occupies is part of the property, and so that he might continue in business at the present location. Mr. Roberts has had his main store at the present location for a number of years and desired to continue here due to the fact that his customers were well acquainted with the location.

The hotel is leased by William J. Bauman, who operates the St. Francis Hotel. His lease is good for several years yet. "Until the time for the lease to expire," Mr. Roberts said, "I have no plans for improvements or remodeling of the building."

Gasoline Stolen

T. R. Day, 1106 South Lamine avenue, reported to the police that four night in a row gasoline had been stolen from the gasoline tank on his automobile. Mr. Day also reported the hub caps on his 1933 Chevrolet automobile had been stolen.

Robert Smallwood Returning to States
Robert Smallwood, 506 East Tenth street, have received word that their son, Robert Smallwood, whose wife resides in Atchison, Kas., will arrive in the states next week after two years overseas in the South Pacific. He has been in service three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood have another son, James Smallwood, 903 South Moniteau avenue, who received his discharge recently and is now home after twenty-six months in service, eighteen of which was spent in the South Pacific.

Major Blake is Case Witness
In reporting police court activities, Thursday, it was stated Major Lynn Blake, 309 West Seventh street, was charged with careless and reckless driving. This should have appeared that Major Blake was a witness in the case against Warrant Officer Michael Doherty, of the Sedalia Army Air Field.

Warrant Officer Doherty was arrested following a collision at Broadway and Barrett avenue with a car driven by Major Blake. The accident occurred on New Year's morning.

The car is owned by Lt. Col. Tobiason.

Mrs. Stanley Tobiason, wife of Lt. Col. Tobiason, was severely injured. She was taken to Research hospital in Kansas City where X-ray pictures were taken and she received treatment. She returned to her home here in Sedalia at 1413 West Broadway, Thursday evening, by private automobile and is very much improved.

Mrs. Tobiason, is a former U. S. Army nurse, was captured by the Germans in 1944 when a transport evacuation plane, on which she was a flight nurse, was shot down. She was returned to Allied military authority in an exchange of prisoners early in 1945 and was released from service last summer.

Lt. Col. Tobiason is a pilot and stationed at the SAAF.

Relatives of Ray Inselman Are Concerned

Have Heard Nothing From Him Since Last September

No letters from Pvt. Ray Inselman, stationed in Germany when last heard from by relatives in Sedalia and vicinity, have been received since September and relatives are anxious concerning his welfare. He is the husband of Mrs. Velma Inselman of Windsor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Inselman of Green Ridge and grandson of Mrs. Roe Smith, 318 E. Seventh street. The 19-year-old soldier has two sisters, Alberta Nell and Jean Inselman.

Pvt. Inselman

Pvt. Inselman attended Green Ridge school and entered military service two years ago in November. He had been stationed in Europe a year last September.

The following letter is quoted which he wrote from Germany last June 22 to his grandmother, who reared him:

"Dear Grandma and All
"Hello, Mom. I guess you know who I am calling Mom, don't you? I am calling you Mom, because you are just like a mother to me. I miss your cooking and washing for me and all the things you have done for me. Yes, when I come home on a furlough, I will spend it with you.

Gone Far Enough

"Mom, I'm not the boy you used to see come home all the time. I have changed quite a bit. I'm not the run-around type like I used to be. I am quiet. I don't care about going anywhere—for my age I think I have been far enough, don't you?
"I am glad K. Gregory got to come home. I sure wish I could. I know I am going to the South Pacific. Maybe I will get to come home first, I don't know. The war is a pretty bad thing—just one mistake and you can lose your life. Before you do anything you think twice, and then you will think again before you do it. My points are pretty low. I have 45, so you see what chance I have of getting out very quick.

"I have one battle star. I saw six months' combat. We didn't have a rest so you can imagine how tired I am. I was in on the big push on Munich—that is where the German capital was. Boy! That was some fight! I will never forget the fighting I did in this war and I am sure the rest of the boys feel the same. We also fought in France. I think the Germans learned their lesson. Thirteen of us captured 150 in one week. Well, Mom, I guess I had better close for this time.
"Loving you all, your son,
"Ray E. Inselman."

Morgan Denies He Resigned

HOECHST, Germany, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Sir Frederick E. Morgan denied today reports from Washington that he had resigned as UNRRA operations chief in Germany as the result of a controversy over statements he made at a press conference Wednesday.

"I have not resigned, for I see no reason why I should," Morgan declared.

He declined to confirm or deny reports that Washington UNRRA officers had cabled him last night asking that he resign. It was understood, however, that such a cable had been received here, after publication of a Washington story that he had resigned.

(The Washington reports quoted a UNRRA official as saying that Morgan had resigned voluntarily and that the resignation would be announced today. The official, who could not be named, said Morgan was "shocked and dismayed" at the reaction to his statement.)

"In my remarks to the press Wednesday I made reference to the Jewish question, not as a whole but to local symptoms which seemed to me as unhealthy as the lack of a general plan to bring an end to the fear and wandering of these unfortunate people," Morgan said in an official statement released to newspapermen.

Three Cars Figure In A Collision

State Patrolman Pete Stohr reported an accident one-fourth mile east of the Junction of highways 50 and 58 at 6 o'clock Friday evening in which Allen Williams, of Sedalia, passenger and owner of one of the three cars involved, received contusions about the face and head.

Charges of careless and reckless driving were filed against James Hood of 615 West Second street, Sedalia, driver of a 1939 Chrysler sedan which collided with an oncoming car driven by Charles Sullens of Kansas City, when he attempted to pass a gasoline transport truck owned by the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., driven by Basil Slaughman of Gashland, Mo. Hood, who with Allen Williams was returning from Kansas City, said that he did not think an oncoming car was as close as it was, hit it then ploughed into the truck which was along-side of his machine. Williams' car was said to be completely demolished and the body of Sullens car was badly torn up. Damages to the truck was estimated at $10.

James Hood is to appear in court of Judge McDonald at Warrensburg, Monday.
